INTRODUCTION

The Rock Island County Mental Health Court has been developed so that you may address your mental health condition and co-occurring substance dependence while living in the community. This voluntary program has been developed to help you become connected to treatment services while addressing your legal problems. It is for those people who recognize that they have a problem with mental illness and want a better life for themselves and their loved ones. The following rules and advice are given to help you complete the Mental Health Court program successfully.

We hope this guide will answer many of your questions concerning your participation in Mental Health Court. This program requires a commitment for a minimum of 12 months depending on the progress you make. During this time you will be on probation and closely supervised. You are required to abide by the Mental Health Court rules. Complying with the program and successfully graduating from Mental Health Court will mean that your case will be dismissed or any other lesser sentence negotiated by your attorney.

It is important that you understand what is expected of you, as this is a long-term commitment. You will be expected to attend treatment as well as self-help groups. You will also make regular court appearances and will be required to submit to random, drug and alcohol tests.

Remember throughout your time on probation if you have any questions, ask someone, including the judge. Everyone wants you to succeed – the judge, the prosecutor, your lawyer, your probation officer, counselors – everyone. They will work as a team to help you to build a new life, one day at a time.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Rock Island County Mental Health Court seeks to reduce recidivism by providing community based supervision and services to individuals who suffer from mental illness through a collaborative effort with the judiciary, law enforcement and local treatment providers.

GOALS

It is the goal of the Rock Island County Mental Health Court to curtail the “revolving door” cycle of arrest and incarceration for people who commit crimes due to their mental illness.

This will be achieved by:

2. The time frame from arrest to receipt of treatment will decrease.
3. The ratio of probationers to probation officer will decrease within the Mental Health Court Program.
4. Timely court response to positive and negative behaviors will become routine.
5. Expanding the range of options available to the judiciary by establishing a pool of “wrap-around” and incentive funds that can provide onetime payment for identified needs of offenders.
6. Increasing timely access to and provision of treatment of mental health services available to offenders with mental illness by having an identified RYC / Transitions service coordinator to Mental Health Court

There is absolutely no advantage for you to miss, tamper with, alter or dilute a drug test. Dilute or altered drug tests will be reviewed by the States Attorney's Office for prosecution. If you have used an illegal or prohibited substance, and you then try and hide the fact, all you do is harm our ability to help you and for you to help yourself.

MEDICATION

It is very important that you take the medications that your doctor gives you. Medications are an important tool for managing your health. The MHC team knows that some medications have side effects and it can be difficult for a doctor to find the best medications for you. If you have trouble with your medications, you should tell your doctor as soon as possible. Your doctor may be able to change your medications.

You cannot take any narcotic or prescription medication unless you have a doctor's prescription. If you violate this rule, you may be sanctioned. Prior to filling any newly prescribed medications; except in an emergency situation, you should first notify your probation officer.

It is your responsibility to prove that you have been prescribed medications. If you do not notify your probation officer prior to taking a prescribed medication, and you test positive due to taking medication you may be sanctioned by the Judge.

Taking over the counter drugs that contain alcohol or any other mood altering substances is forbidden (examples include diet pills, caffeine pills, Sudafed and Nyquil).

HOUSING

All clients will have an approved housing plan at the time of entry into the program. In the event that you will be living at a private residence a Mental Health Court officer will conduct a home visit and consult with the Mental Health Court Team to approve your housing.

Once your housing plan has been approved you will not be allowed to move or relocate without first receiving permission from your Mental Health Court Officer. You will not be allowed to live in an environment that is deemed by the Mental Health Court Team to be unproductive towards your recovery.
